CHICKAMAUGA And BATTLEFIELD LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN

Surround yourself with History, Natural Beauty and Family Fun

Civil War and military enthusiasts will want to start their journey by visiting Chickamauga & Chattanooga National Military Park, the nation's oldest and largest Civil War Battlefield. You'll walk where Confederate and Union soldiers fought in the bloodiest two-day battle of the war on September 19-20, 1863. The Visitor's Center offers exhibits, bookstore, Fuller Gun Collection of American Shoulder Arms and 23-minute film. The battlefield is lined with monuments, historical tablets, wayside exhibits and hiking trails with special interpretive presentations throughout the year. Check out nps.gov/chch/planyourvisit/events.htm for a complete list of special events.

The region's rich military history continues on Barnhardt Circle where cavalry officers' homes surround the parade ground of the former Army Post at Fort Oglethorpe (1902-1947), home to the 6th Cavalry Museum, outdoor family and music festivals.

Don't worry if your family's not up for a trip to the battlefield. There's plenty to entertain everyone – shopping, dining, and outdoor adventures.

Your overnight stay in Fort Oglethorpe puts you in the heart of all the action – you're just 15 minutes from downtown Chattanooga or historic Chickamauga and two hours to Atlanta, Nashville, Gatlinburg and Knoxville.

HISTORIC Fort Oglethorpe

Chickamauga National Battlefield Park

The 5,500 acre Chickamauga Battlefield Park contains monuments, historical tablets, wayside exhibits, and trails. Major points of interest can be reached by following the seven-mile auto tour.

Lookout Mountain Civil War Park

The 3,000 acre Lookout Mountain Battlefield contains monuments, historical markers, trails, and scenic vistas. Point Park, a unit of the Lookout Mountain Battlefield, is located on the top of the mountain.

Chattanooga National Cemetery

The 120-acre Chattanooga National Cemetery has its origins rooted in the area's Civil War experience. In addition to Civil War veterans, four members of "Andrew's Raiders" and 186 German prisoners of war are buried there along with veterans from all wars.

6th Cavalry Museum

The area's rich military history from the Civil War through World War II (1861–1947) is told at the 6th Cavalry Museum. Located on the Army Post's parade ground, surrounded by Officer's Quarters and many of the original Post buildings (1905), you'll see their history come alive with authentic uniforms, weapons, photographs, documents and M-47 Patton Tank. The public is invited to attend Vintage Base Ball matches, Remembering Our Heroes and other polo field events highlighting our patriotic heritage and family-friendly events.
